

The Profile Service

Section twelve

The goal of this section

To create a new service responsible for User profiles.

Query aggregation. When returning (for example) a question we need to enrich it with profile data from a different service

Protecting routes using nextjs
middleware

To create a new service responsible for User profiles.

Query aggregation. When returning (for example) a question we need to enrich it with profile data from a different service

Protecting routes using nextjs

So, isn't this query aggregation a bit... inefficient?
